

BRIEF

The brief is the means by which the client communicates his requirements to his agents. The brief is a written document and sets down functional requirements, design standards, timetables and costs associated with the project.