

BUILDING LINE

The building line can mean:

- boundary of the road so that the road would be of sufficient width and to stop buildings from encroaching onto the road.
- the line on which it is proposed to erect the building. In NSW until 1906 a property owner was allowed to build to the street alignment.
- in more recent times it has acquired a new meaning as a general minimum setback and control on development.